

What could be hotter than luscious ladies indulging in tasty treats? These sweet things are looking as scrumptious as the caramels at the Candy Store in San Francisco, where these shots were taken. Burlesque star Jukie Sunshine (opposite page) pairs a Sheer Bliss With Flowers skirt with sheer black bloomers from lesbian-owned Size Queen Clothing and pink and orange Alfani pumps from Macy's. Girls gone glam (above, left to right): Jukie is in a hand-dyed dress with fringe and hardware trim, designer Sossity Chiricuzio wears a raspberry skirt with floor length zips, Chave Alexander (aka burlesque queen Alotta Butte) amply rocks her plunging decollete trimmed in soft pink maribou and performer Celestina Pearl wears a two-toned number with hand-stitched black and red maribou—all dresses handmade by Sossity's lesbian design firm, Diesel Femme. On the bottom (from the left): Chave gets sassy in Diesel Femme's periwinkle skirt with fluttering lace hem and blue John Fluevog heels. Sossity wears a Size Queen pinstripe skirt and Celestina gives good face in a black Diesel Femme dress with purple detail.
